Johnson Up For Re-election; Riley, Redlick, Volk in Race

Posey Out to StopMatson's Winning Way

Coach Ray Kaufman sends his thinclads to the post this coming Saturday afternoon in Cox Stadium in what could be called an abbreviated version of "a cavalcade of stars." The Gators host star-studded Cal Poly and University of San Francisco, featuring Ollie Matson.

Although the Cal Poly school is far removed from the Bay area, the outstanding member of the squad is none other than distance man Allie Cage, great prep ace from McClymonds high school. Cage won easily from a good field last week in San Jose in the good time of 4:30.5. Although State miler Jim Shettler rates little chance of upsetting Cage in the four lap event, he should break into the 4:30's for the first time in his running career.

Another feature of the meet will be the century and the furlong. USF's great Ollie Matson, with an eye on Helsinki, lays an impressive unbeaten 1952 win record on the line. Gator Len Posey, looking sharper by the week, rates an outside chance of dumping the great Ollie in both dashes. Len looked strong in winning the 220 last week.

Hope for a Gator victory lies in the ability of the Staters to pile up points for the second and third positions. Cal Poly is "loaded" with potential first place winners.

The Southerners should have little trouble winning the broad jump, shot put, pole vault, and the high jump. Staats of the polytechnic school was able to clear 13' 4" in the vault in their meet last week.

Wilson of CP cleared 6' 3" to place second behind the great Herm Wyatt of San Jose. Chances of a Cal Poly clean sweep in the broad jump is highly probable on the strength of past performance. All three of the Poly contestants went over the 22 foot marker last week.

A hot race can again be expected in the quarter mile run. Bob Lualhati and Vic Gipson could very well finish 1-2 in their specialty.—By Herb Colton.

Cadets Vote Today For Queen of Ball

Winner to Be Crowned at Treasure Island Tonight

Candidates for queen of the first annual Military Ball, scheduled for tonight at the Treasure Island Officers Club, were introduced to the Air Force ROTC cadets yesterday at the opening of the two day voting period. Balloting will close today, and the queen will be crowned tonight. Queen candidates include Jan Franklin, Pat Holberg, Ann Perkins, Susie Poulton, Gloria Sanchez, and Pat Strohmeyer.

Lt. Colonel John K. Hardy, professor of air science and tactics, will crown the queen at the ball.

Music for the affair will be provided by the Hamilton Air Force Base dance band.

Dress for the cadets tonight will be Air Force uniforms with white shirt and black bow tie. Co-chairman Ron LeRoy warns the cadets to leave their hats in their cars to avoid confusion in the check room after the dance.

Castleberry on New Communism Discussion Series

Dr. Donald Castleberry, chairman of the social science division at the college, is among the 14 distinguished authorities who will discuss various aspects of communism in a series of Friday night programs at 7:45 p.m. on KNBC. On May 23 Dr. Castleberry's topic will be "The Communists and Peace."

The series, entitled "Communism—A Clinical Analysis," began last Friday night and featured Judge McWilliams of the San Francisco Superior Court in the introductory program which traced the history of the Communist party line.

On Friday, "The Basic Theories of Communism" will be considered by Karl Landauer, professor of political science at the University of California at Berkeley.

SPEAKERS AND TOPICS

Authorities to follow Professor Landauer in subsequent programs include:

Professor Harold Fisher of Stanford University, who will speak on "Lenin vs. Jefferson"; Wilson Record of the University of California, "The Tactics of Communism"; Jack Goldberger, president of the San Francisco Labor Council, "The Communists and Labor"; Reverend Karl Block, Episcopal Bishop of California, "The Communists and Individual Freedom"; Reverend Harry Meserve, minister of the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco, "The Communists and Religion"; Professor Donald Castleberry, chairman of the social science division, San Francisco State College, "The Communists and Peace"; Professor Philip Selznick, University of California, "Communism and Fascism"; Professor Douglas Campbell of the University of California, formerly chief psychiatrist at the Nuremberg trials, "The Psychology of the Communists"; Professor Fred Stripp of the University of California, "Communist Propaganda Techniques"; Dr. Herbert Clish, superintendent of San Francisco public schools, "Communism and Education"; J. D. Zellerbach, president of the World Affairs Council of Northern California and former ECA administrator in Italy, "The Offensive Against Communism"; and Dr. Harry Overstreet.

GROUP ENDORSEMENTS

The series has been endorsed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, the Central Labor Council, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the Council of Church Women, and the Interfraternal Council.

Board Passes $835 Expenses For State Fair

In one of the shortest meetings on record the Board of Control approved the proposed State Fair budget last Thursday by a vote of three affirmative and two abstentions.

Willis Wood, chairman of the committee, announced that the donkey basketball game, which was expected to bring in a $100 profit, had been called off and will be replaced later by another attraction. A dance which will be given is expected to have a profit of $125, a puppet show will cost $15, with an expected income of $20, and the music, fashion, and water shows are expected to bring in a total income of $145. Other items on the budget which have an estimated income without expense include $100 from food and $30 from the check stand.

The estimated expenses without any income include $20 for field day, $15 for trophies, $75 for publicity, $15 for tickets, $30 for maintenance, $40 for rain insurance, $50 for miscellaneous items, $25 for physician, and $25 for extra lights.

The entire budget shows an income of $945, with expenses totaling $835. Estimated profit is $110.

The fair will be held at the new campus, and the entire program will be centered around the P. E. building.

Men's Glee Club Plans First Annual Concert

The Men's Glee Club will present its first annual concert on Tuesday, April 22, at 8 p.m. in Frederic Burk auditorium.

Performers for the first solo venture will include William Bonsall, William Novales, and Pascha Ashraffi. Bonsall, more familiarly known on campus as William Johnson, is a professional concert tenor and has appeared on radio and television programs; in the program here he will sing the "Il Mio Tesora" aria from Mozart's "Don Giovanni." Novales, concert pianist, who has made several tours, will play "Seguidilla" by Albeneiz.

Ashraffi, violinist, will present "Zegeunerwisin" by Sarasate.

Howard Lamb, a music major, will be student director for three numbers.

Candidates Circulating Petitions For Various Student Body Offices

Don Johnson, student body president, announced Monday that he will be a candidate for re-election in the forthcoming student body election.

Three other candidates will vie with Johnson for the presidency. They are Harry Redlick, student body treasurer; Cec Riley, and Norry Volk, president of Inter-Fraternity Council.

No petitions have been filed for the office of vice-president, and Barbara Gould, president of the Speakers' Bureau, is the sole candidate for the secretarial post.

A three-way battle looms for student body treasurer with Hal Grant, Jack Anderson, and Robert Preble eyeing the usually uncontested post.

RALLY COMMISSIONER

DeVon Stanfield and Donald McPherson, members of the rally committee, will compete for the role of activities commissioner. There are seven candidates for the Board of Directors. James Kilker, Claire Tulanian, Bob Frelow, Joanne Klein, Marjorie Morrison, and John Lee are seeking the three posts for members-at-large over 60 units.

At press time, no one had petitioned for member-at-large under 32 units. Two positions will be open under this classification.

Helen Spencer is the sole applicant for member-at-large under 16 units. Two positions are also open under this classification.

CLASS OFFICES

Deadline for filing petitions for candidacy is 4 p.m. Monday, April 14. Elections will be held on April 24 and 25.

STATERS ON TV SHOW NEXT TUESDAY

Don Johnson, Sharon McDonnell, and Maurice Besse will represent the student body on a Student vs. Faculty television program, "Crossroad Puzzles," next week. The faculty group will include Dean Alan Johnson, Mr. Robert Katz, and Dr. Margaret Jessen. The program will be presented Tuesday, April 15, on channel 7 at 8:30 p.m.

Instructor Urges Creation of New College Magazine

Mr. Myron Pollack, language arts instructor, submitted a proposal to the Board of Publications at their meeting of April 1 for the creation of a new literary magazine.

Since Inklings, the original literary magazine on campus, was abandoned in 1950, there has been no similar enterprise here. Mr. Pollack feels that in order to establish standards of writing excellence in the college, there is a need for publishing such a magazine. Through this publication the department would be able to draw out talented writers in the college and attract a vast number of potential writers who live in San Francisco to the college.

DEFINITE PLANS

The board told Mr. Pollack to go ahead and formulate definite plans for the magazine, which would include a detailed budget, and submit them to the board. The proposal, if approved, would then be submitten to the Board of Control for final approval.

Mr. Ray Doyle, publicity director, pointed out that if the re-birth of this enterprise is to be considered, the reasons why Inklings failed should be examined so that the same mistakes won't be made with the new magazine.

PART OF CURRICULUM

As the plans stand now, the magazine will be part of the language arts curriculum. The staff will be developed from creative arts classes and from the language arts department. The group plans to use papers of quality from short story classes and other creative writing classes. Participation in this project will be voluntary and no credits will be given.

The magazine will include "good" short stories, nonesoteric poetry, lively criticisms, and critical essays.

TWICE YEARLY

Proposed plans call for publication of the book twice yearly, in May and December. Estimated costs for printing from 750 to 1,000 copies of the 50-page book are between $350 and $450.

If the book is published, an evaluation by both the instructors involved and the Board of Publication would determine whether publication should be continued.

Inspection Team Due Here For First ROTC Unit Review

An Air Force inspection team will arrive at State next Monday for the first annual review of the training activities and status of the Air Force ROTC unit. The team is composed of officers appointed by the Fourth Air Force of Hamilton Air Force Base, and includes Colonel Charles Haas, professor of air science and tactics of the AFROTC detachment at Utah State College, Lt. Colonel Richard D. Riddle of the inspector general's office, Major Monte L. Robertson, assistant PASAT of the AFROTC detachment of the University of Idaho, and Captain Fritz Moellendorf of the fourth Air Force in spector general's office.

The inspection team will determine the degree to which State's AFROTC unit has carried out the objectives set forth in department of the Air Force programs of instruction and the condition and adequacy of facilities provided for theoretical and practical instruction.

The team will remain at State for three days before moving on to other schools in the Bay Area. A full dress review by the corps of cadets will be staged for the inspection team Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the National Guard Armory.

Letters to the Editor

THE BOILER ROOM

To the Editor of the Golden Gater:

I have just read a letter printed under the heading "Boiler Room" in the April 2nd issue regarding the formation of the new State College Athletic Conference and my identification with it.

One bit of information, I think, ought to be given. That is that presidents of the state colleges are very much interested in seeing that the whole program of athletics is a part of the fundamental program of the institution. This is in harmony with the national program of the American Council on Education, of which we are members, to place the planning of athletics in the same relationship to the institution as all other educational activities.

At the last meeting of the Council of State College Presidents the group voted to appoint a committee to present at the next meeting the details of a state college league. On the committee there were to be two presidents, two deans of students, two directors of athletics, and four chairmen of Divisions of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. President Siemens of Humboldt State College was chairman of the groups, and I was selected to be the other president. The two of us were to represent all the presidents on this committee.

Sincerely, J. Paul Leonard, President.

Editor's note: Mrs. Mae Hogan, holder of P. O. Box 1922, informs the Golden Gater that she did not submit the letter, signed with that number, to which President Leonard refers. Apologies are herewith extended to Mrs. Hogan.

COMMON PURPOSE

Editor, Golden Gater:

I hope that in the coming student body election that individual students and organizations work to get not only themselves but also other students and organizations with varying points of view represented in the student body government.

Supposedly if more individuals and organizations are represented in student body offices there will be a wider interest and participation in the activities of the student body.

During the campaign I hope that the various candidates, even those running for the same office, can work together while realizing that they all have a common purpose, that of improving the extra-curricular program for the benefit of all the students. Sincerely,

Charlie Smith, P.O.Box 452.

Washington Alumni

The newly-formed George Washington Alumni Association announced that a dinner will be held April 23 in the cafeteria at Washington High School. The dinner will begin at 6:45 p.m., and entertainment will be presented at 7:45. The price of the entire program will be $1.25.

Any student interested should write to P. O. Box 641.

Staters Debate U. C. Students Here on Adoption of Wage and Price Controls

State college debaters Randy Street and Jim Moran met students of the University of California in a debate at State's campus on April 1. The State debaters took the affirmative view on the question, Resolved: That the United States should adopt a permanent program of wage and price control. The affirmative maintained that such a system must be put into effect if the nation is to avoid inflation and a consequent depression. They offered a plan whereby a new cabinet position of Secretary of Economic Planning would be created to deal with the problem of economic instability. The negative team, Bill Hayes and Bob Sprague of U.C. rejected the proposal on the grounds that it would not curb economic instability and would increase bureaucracy in the federal government. The debate was a non-decisive contest.

State speakers Tom Johnson, Al Nathan, Victoria Gregorian and Jim Moran also took part in the semi-monthly discussion panel which was held at the University of Santa Clara last Thursday evening. The question which was discussed was: Should the United States continue sending economic aid to Western Europe? Other colleges represented on the panel included Stanford University, St. Mary's College, San Jose State, City College of San Francisco, and the University of San Francisco.

Free Piano, Violin Recital April 21

A violin and piano sonata recital, featuring a State college graduate student and a member of the faculty, will be held in Frederic Burk auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Monday, April 21.

Bette Hope Waddington, graduate student violinist, and Mr. Raymond White, pianist and associate professor of music, will include in the program: Sonata Opus 13 by Gabriel Faure, Sonata 1939 by Paul Hindemith, and Sonata Opus 96 by Ludwig von Beethoven.

There will be no admission charge for the recital.

"Wise Stater"

Voting the Party Line

By Al Pardini

Thought for the week: Either practice what you preach or don't preach.

The other night I was riding home on a jitney, and I heard the following bit of philosophy being tossed around by the driver and a fellow passenger. The subject was politics. To be specific, it was about U. S. Presidents, past, present and future.

The driver was an avowed Democrat and the other party was a Republican. Now before I go any further I would like to explain that in my humble opinion the driver could have been a Republican and the passenger a Democrat, in other words the political party to which each gentleman belonged has no bearing on this story.

NEW PRESIDENT

The subject proper which was being discussed was that a new President was needed for this country, both the Democrat and the Republican agreeing on this. The Republican passenger then expressed his belief that the Republican nomination would go to a dark horse, being that a deadlock would develop between the Taft and Eisenhower forces. The Democratic driver agreed.

Then the Democratic driver expressed his opinion that Kefauver would win the Democratic nomination. The Republican agreed to this and while agreeing dropped a bombshell into the conversation. He said, "Yep, Kefauver will get the Democratic nomination, but it won't do him any good cuz the Republicans are going to win no matter who gets the nomination."

VERBAL EXPLOSION

At this point everybody in the jitney was rocked out of their seats by a loud and forceful, if unprintable, comment by the driver. The driver went on to say that he could now see that his passenger was nothing but one of those Republicans who were born such, vote such and die such. That his passenger would vote for Joe Stalin if he got the Republican nomination. That such people should be thrown out of the country.

The Republican then said, "Hold on a minute, boy. I'll have you know that I voted twice for F.D.R., and I also voted against Hoover the first time he ran. All I say is that we need a change now; we've needed one for the last 10 or 12 years, and I think the Republican party can bring about that change." To this the Democrat yelled, "Just what I said, you're nothing but a darned Republican. I'm telling you that my father always voted the Democratic ticket, and I always have, too, so beat that!"

SHAKY THINKING

Well, of necessity, the story ends there, because we reached my stop, and, as is my custom, I got off there. Before I got out, however, the dialogue passing between these two political foes was rapidly approaching references to the specific hereditary factors of their respective families. At any rate, can this be the thinking of the average American voter in an election year?

Alpha Zeta Sigma Captures Intramural Track Crown; Four Records Broken as Seniors Take Interclass Title

Four records were broken and one was equaled in last week's intramural interclass track meet held at the Cox Stadium track. In the 440, Al Endriss set a new mark of :58 flat. The old record was :58.6, set last year by Mike Levenson. In the 880 Bob Kaffke stole the show with a 2:19.5, cutting 6.4 seconds off the old mark of 2:25.9.

On his fourth and final try Jack Caruso leaped 21' 2" to easily break John Truchard's 1951 record of 20' 8".

Alpha Zeta Sigma put together an eight man relay team that bested their own record of :51.7 which they set last year. The new time was :51 flat.

"Ageless" Herb Colton of the Tri-Omega fraternity tied the pole vault record of 10 feet. This mark was established in 1949 by Bob Kroekel.

In the interclass competition the seniors won the title for the first time in 17 years. They amassed a total of 91 points as compared to the junior's 66, the sophomore's 20, and the freshmen's 11.

The intramural club—fraternity contest provided the most interest and excitement, however. The Alpha Zeta Sigmas put on their usual exhibition of power to capture first place. The A.Z.S.'s (Red Terrors) have won the meet for the last four years.

Runner-up spot went to St. Mary's A. C., a club that did not even field a team in last year's meet. The Kappa Omega fraternity bettered their last year's fourth place by moving up to take show money this year. Right on the heels of K.O. was the Tri-Omega fraternity. The Tri-Omegans made an excellent showing considering the fact that they have been on-campus for only a very short time. Other organizations and their order of finish are as follows: Sigma Pi Sigma, Balboa A. C., Delta Gamma Tau, East Bay A. C., and the A.F.R.O.T.C.

Gator Trackmen Edge Cal Aggies; Snatch Nine Out of Fifteen Firsts

By Herb Colton

Coach Ray Kaufman's vastly improved thinclads posted a back breaking sweep in the century and the furlong to post a thrilling 72½ to 58½ track win over the Cal Aggies in Cox Stadium last Saturday afternoon.

The Gators swept the 100 yard dash with Earl Clayton leading teammates Len Posey and Leo Hinkle to the tape in 10.1 seconds. Posey and Hinkle came in under 10.2 as only a scant yard separated the Gator trio. The time for the dash was good considering the fact that four false starts were registered before the sprinters were able to get away. The start saw most of the dash men getting away slow due to the starter's "fast" gun.

CLOSE WIN

In the 220, Posey streaked to a close win over Clayton, with George Kamian taking the surprise show money. Posey went out ahead of the field at the halfway

PRESS BOX

Where does the trouble lie with S. F. State's baseball team?

Since the opening date of the season, 26th of February, the Gator nine has made a not too impressive showing: dropping six games while winning only three.

We might possibly alibi early season defeats by claiming bad weather and insufficient practice. But the fact remains that the Stateside diamond men have not won a contest in almost three weeks. The last victory for the Gators was an unspectacular 4-2 win over a comparatively weak Treasure Island squad on the 26th of March.

For the last few weeks we have been blessed with unusually beautiful weather and our boys have been able to get out and practice every day. Thus we must find a new crutch to lean on—a new alibi to excuse our poor showing. Maybe, if we delve into the game statistics we might come up with something. So here goes.

Let us break the game down into its three major divisions: batting, pitching, and fielding. In the batting department we find that in the first eight games of the season (statistics are not as yet available for last week's two games), 268 State batters have faced opposing pitchers. The Staters connected for 73 hits, and an average of .274, while our opponents came to bat 261 times and banged out 75 hits for a .287 percentage. From these figures we readily see that no major deficiencies lie with our batting power.

Fieldwise, the State baseballers have a very good record. In eight contests our fielders have committed only one more bobble than our opponents. We have averaged 1.125 errors per nine inning game for eight games.

In eight contests State hurlers have walked 51 men while fanning only 35. As a contrast, our opponents passed 27 and struck out 42 batters. A good team with a well rounded pitching staff will have an approximate ratio of one base on balls to every two strike-outs. Our competition has complied with this rule as evidenced by the figures.

Our pitchers have an average of 6.375 base on balls per game, while their strike-out record is only 4.375 per contest. In simpler terms, we have a ratio of 1½ base on balls for each strikeout. This kind of showing does not make for a winning ball club. Obviously, we must develop some hurlers that possess some control, and develop them mighty fast or we will stand an excellent chance of losing all eight remaining contests this season.

mark in the furlong and was never headed. Clayton closed ground at the 180 yard marker but was unable to pull ahead as Len put out a burst of speed to win in 22.5 seconds in the fog shrouded stadium.

The feature race of the day was the quarter mile run.

Bob Lualhati showed real class in posting his first win of the season in the 440. Bob broke ahead of a bunched field of quartermilers to break the tape three yards ahead of teammate Vic Gipson.

DISTANCE ACE

Frosh distance ace Jim Shettler copped his third double win of the season in the mile and two mile run. Shettler won the mile in 4:42.8 and the eight lap event in the good time of 10:29.2. Coach Kaufman's thinks that Jim will break the 10 minute mark when offered some stiff competition.

Other Gator winners were Fred Berensmeier in the high jump with a leap of 5' 11", Bruce Duncan and Jim Olson tied for first in the pole vault at the height of 11' 6", and "Tiny" Dees a surprise winner in the javelin at 155' 11".

USF HITTING TOO MUCH

San Francisco State bowed to the University of San Francisco, top independent team in the Bay Area, 7-3, in seven innings of play on the Dons' campus. Wednesday's contest gave the Gators a 3 for 6 win record this season.

The heavy hitting power of the Dons, coupled with spotty pitching and costly errors, proved too much for an outmanned State squad. Scoring runs for the Gators were Len Cohen, Chick DeLee and Maurie Duncan.

Rain postponed the scheduled game Monday afternoon with the San Diego State Aztecs to a future date.

JV's DOWN MISSION

State's J. V. baseball team capitalized on the homerun play in beating the Mission High varsity 8-3 on Wednesday at the Mission school diamond.

San Francisco's starting pitcher, John Carle, had plenty of support in winning his second straight game of the season, with Lou Gunski hitting a grand slam homer in the fourth to put the Gators out in front. Frank Lawlor and George Wehner added insurance homeruns in the fifth to ice the contest.

Mission high got their two runs in the first inning and were held scoreless until the seventh, when the Bears got to Joe Fiole, who relieved Carle in the sixth for their last run.

Bob Jiminez Shatters 100-yd. Freestyle Record; Staters Take Three First Places

By Lou Arieta

San Jose State held an unbeatable monopoly in the second annual California State College swim meet held on the Spartan campus last Friday and Saturday afternoons, but San Francisco State's diminutive band of swimmers combined hard work with natural ability to finish a strong second behind the loaded Spartans.

The scoring: San Jose State, 191; San Francisco State, 70; Los Angeles State, 24; Fresno State, 6; and San Diego State, 3.

Bob Jiminez of S. F. State churned to a 54.7 record in the 100 yard freestyle to highlight the Gators' efforts. Other records, in the 100 yard backstroke and the 100 yard breast stroke, were set by San Jose's Dick Lebedeff and Jay Flood.

State hosts Cal Poly at 3:30 p.m. in the new campus pool on Friday. Yesterday the swimmers met the Stanford JV's at Palo Alto.

The State College meet was decided before any participant entered the water. The Spartans had an average of four men in every event, while the visiting schools had a mere sprinkling of entrants. In the words of Gator Coach Hal Harden, "They were a cinch to win."

Gator Bob Jiminez ran away with top individual honors and won three gold medals by winning the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events and combining as backstroker with Norm Stupfel and Bob Northcutt on the victorious three-man medley relay team.

Norm Stupfel took seconds in the 100 and 220 yard breast-stroke to take second in State's individual scoring. The State 400-yard relay team of Al Nelson, Ron Penzel, Dave Deranleau, and "Anonymous" Devine finished second in a crowd pleaser.

Ron Penzel took second in the three-meter diving, fourth in the one-meter. Al Nelson took fourth in the 200 yard backstroke and third in the 150 individual medley. Al Zansky, Bob Knapp, and Warren Stockard were unable to attend the meet and severely hurt the already thin Gator swim squad.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 32...THE YAK

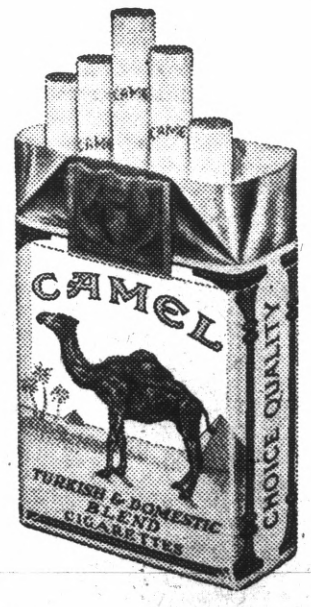
He's far too sophisticated to be amused by slap-stick comedy! From the minute the curtain went up, he knew that you just can't judge cigarette mildness by one fast puff or a single, swift sniff. Those capers may fool a frosh — but he's been around and he knows! From coast-to-coast, millions of smokers agree: There's but one true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .



After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions
